Why a Calendar Beats Reacting

Reactive releases almost always arrive late. A calendar means data, photos and spokespeople are ready before journalists start looking.

Q1 · Jan–Mar

- Chinese New Year (early Feb 2027): newsrooms slow, publish before
- Budget 2027 (Feb): react with SME-relevant commentary
- Annual results & 2027 targets

Q2 · Apr–Jun

- Mid-year data from your own customers
- Hiring and regional expansion announcements
- Industry events & trade shows: pre-announce, don't wait

Q3 · Jul–Sep

- 9 Aug National Day: community programmes, local pride stories
- Partnership & funding announcements
- Prep for year-end events

Q4 · Oct–Dec

- 11.11, Black Friday & 12.12: release promos before peak days
- Year-end slowdown from mid-Dec: plan January news now
- Year in review & 2028 outlook

The T-14 to T+3 Rule

A working timeline for every moment:

timeline

T-14 research & data · T-7 final release + photos · T-3 pitch journalists · Day 0 publish & share · T+3 coverage recap

99%

of Singapore businesses are SMEs

Every one of them is competing for the same news days. Preparation decides who gets covered.
